

Since we're writing, we would also like to mention how shocked we were to hear all the vulgar language broadcast after the recent playoff games.
Since it seems to be a common occurrence for players to cuss after every game (whether in anger or triumph), it would seem that the broadcasters would be a little more ready to bleep out such comments before our children hear them! Thanks for listening.